CLEAR CREEK COUNTY TO CO-HOST HOUSING CLASS FOR RESIDENTS

Media Partners,

Taking place this Saturday on November 5th, the Clear Creek County Housing Department in conjunction with the non-profit 9 to 5 and the Five Star Neighborhood Collaborative will be hosting a housing class geared towards mobile home park residents. It will take place from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. in the County Commissioners' meeting room located at 405 Argentine Street in Georgetown.

At the class, people can expect to learn how to support organizing efforts. In addition, mobile home residents can learn more about what organizing is, misconceptions, significance of leadership, and outreach. Home owners can also learn about their rights as individuals and the rights they have that protect residents that exercise their right to organize their community. Finally, there will be information about the MHP Act, which governs relationships between homeowners and park owners.

With more than 20 mobile home parks in the county, Clear Creek Housing, 9 to 5, and the Five Star Neighborhood Collaborative hopes this class will be beneficial to those with questions or concerns when it comes to their homes.

This class is free, and you can join either in person or over Zoom. Below is information on how to join.

Zoom/Virtual option by request when RSVP
